BOIL ALL YOUR MILK

Commission Advises Public to Safeguard Health.

ASSAILS ALL UNCLEAN METHODS

Declares Some Dealers Take No Pains and Precipitate Epidemics of Disease by Insanitary Places. Advises Against Buying Unclean Food—Calls Adulteration Robbery.

Prefacing its report with the statement that it is strongly impressed with the manifold dangers connected with the milk supply, the committee on sanitary relations in the District Building yesterday, recommended to the public the following as immediate safeguards until the needed reforms in dairy methods are accomplished:

"Do not patronize a milk dealer at any price, whose milk, after standing for two hours, reveals a visible sediment at the bottom of the bottle. It is evidence of dirty habits, extremely suggestive of danger, and entirely preventable by clean, decent methods, without greatly increasing the cost.

"Subject all your milk to home pasteurization, by simply bringing it to the boiling point, and, after cooling, keep the milk on ice; this will destroy germ life, and reduce the chances of milk-borne disease to a minimum, and if we can reduce our typhoid fever rate even only 10 per cent by this method, not to mention infantile diarrheas and other infectious diseases, it is clearly our duty to do it.

Recommend Continued Work. "Your committee recommends that the results of the recent investigations into the milk supply be placed at the disposal of the Commissioners of the District.

"In conclusion, your committee recommends that until the health department shall be in control of a bacteriological laboratory and a sufficient number of inspectors, the health officer request the continuance of the co-operation of the Bureau of Public Health and Marine Hospital Service and the Department of Agriculture for improving the local milk supply."

In reply to the letter of F. R. Horner, a member of the conference and a prominent milk dealer, which was presented at the last session of the conference, Dr. G. M. Kober, chairman of the committee on sanitary relations, presented the report of his committee, in which it is stated that while it is believed that Mr. Horner is perfectly conscientious in his views, and doubtless has the best interests of the community at heart, on the other hand, the consumer of milk, and especially the innocent and helpless babies, have some facts concerning milk should be presented and remedial steps taken at the first opportunity.

Milk Dealers Arraigned. "It is a remarkable fact," says the report, "that every attempt to improve the purity of this invaluable article of food should be promptly opposed by the milk industry, which constitutes a strong spoke in the commercial wheel, and evidently considers it meddlesome interference with their trade. These men evidently do not know, and cannot know, that such hydra-headed diseases as cholera infantum, scarlet fever, and diphtheria have been disseminated in the milk supply; that typhoid fever epidemics have been caused, and that milk may be the vehicle of the germs of tuberculosis and other infectious diseases and morbid agents.

"Dr. Wiley reports that during the last few months his bureau examined 37 samples of milk taken in Washington, of which 56, or a little over 17 per cent, had been skimmed or watered, and of the 36 samples of cream, 28, or 33.3 per cent of the total number, were below the standard required by law.

Much Milk Below Standard. "The records of the health department show that during the past five years 28,559 samples of milk were examined; of these, 4,801, or 23.5 per cent, were below the legal standard, and in 11,905 instances prosecutions for the sale of adulterated milk were presented in the courts.

"These robberies, largely made up of the pennies of the poor and sickly women and half-starved children, amount in money value to considerable more each year than the entire cost of the health department.

Upon motion of W. F. Mattingly, Dr. Woodward, secretary of the commission, was directed to consider ways and means for the publication and distribution of 10,000 copies of the report among the citizens of Washington.

Recommend Inspectors. The administrative committee—W. F. Mattingly, chairman—submitted its report, in which it is recommended that provision be made for the appointment of inspectors in the proportion of at least one to every 100 dairy farms, and that these inspectors be empowered to suspend summarily for a period not to exceed forty-eight hours any license to produce or sell milk in the District. The making by the inspector of a false report from willful or malicious motives shall be punishable by a fine or by imprisonment, or both.

The committee appointed to consider the question from its commercial aspect—George M. Oyster, chairman—reported that, judging from the standpoint of the producer, it is convinced that the cost of milk will be increased from 5 to 6 cents a gallon if it is necessary to deliver the milk to the railroads at less than 60 degrees.

With respect to the proposition of a refrigerator car service by the railroad companies, the report states that the representative of the baggage department of the Southern Railway has said that in his opinion the company would rather give up the business of hauling milk entirely than to install refrigerator cars. The Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, it is stated, is contemplating putting in service a milk train, hauling no passengers, leaving Frederick each morning.

Dr. Harvey W. Wiley was appointed chairman of a committee to consult further with the railroad companies regarding the installation of a refrigerator car service.

A number of pictures of dairy farms, barns, milk houses, and dairy houses were shown by Dr. G. Lloyd Magruder.

WOMAN KILLS HERSELF.

Mrs. Marie L. Jolley Commits Suicide by Inhaling Gas.

Mrs. Marie L. Jolley, a government clerk, committed suicide at her home, 11 L street northwest, some time late Tuesday night or yesterday morning by inhaling illuminating gas. The discovery was made by her daughter shortly after 7 o'clock yesterday morning, who went to her mother's room to awaken her and noticed a strong odor of gas escaping from the room. Opening the door, she was horrified to find her mother stretched on the bed, with a rubber tube leading from the neck of a small gas stove in her mouth. The girl's screams aroused the other people in the house, who hastily summoned a physician. The woman was beyond any medical assistance, the doctor stating that she had been dead for several hours. It was found upon examination that, besides inhaling the gas from the tube, another gas jet in the room had been opened.

ONLY 12 HOTELS LICENSED.

Clash Over Fire Escape Regulations Creates Trouble.

Some delay has been experienced by the assessor in the collection of taxes on hotel property, owing to the enforcement of the new fire escape regulations. The assessor is not permitted to issue a license to hotels until he has received a certificate from the building inspector showing that the owners of the building have complied with the fire regulations, but in order that no unnecessary hardships be enforced the Commissioners agreed to issue the necessary licenses with the understanding that the building inspector should show that the owners or managers of the hotels would make the necessary changes to their buildings so as to bring them within the requirements of the law within ninety days. At present, however, according to the officials of the assessor's office, but twelve hotels out of a total of eighty-one, are operating under a license.

It is probable that the matter will be referred to the corporation counsel with a view of determining whether the owners or managers of these hotels can be prosecuted.

MRS. OSBORN GETS ESTATE.

Will of Husband Leaves Property to Widow—Other Wills.

Mrs. Annie C. Osborn is named as the sole beneficiary and executrix in the will of Alfred G. Osborn, dated September 21, 1895, and filed for probate yesterday. The will of Robert Wilson Falls, dated April 27 last, was filed for probate yesterday, and in it the testator devises the entire estate in equal shares to his children, Robert S. Falls and Mary Roberts Green, wife of James Johnston Green, of Alexandria, Va. The testator's son, Robert Schmeckel Falls, and his son-in-law, James Johnston Green, are appointed executors. Mr. Falls died May 4 last.

Two wills of Mrs. Charles Catharine Ruppert, dated December 22, 1897, and March 24, 1904, were filed for probate yesterday. By the will of the earlier date the entire estate is devised to the daughter of the deceased, Annie May Ruppert. By the later one, the property is devised to James H. Taylor, in trust for the maintenance and education of Annie May Ruppert during her minority. At her majority she is to receive the property unconditionally. James H. Taylor is appointed executor.

Funeral of Frederick Graf.

The funeral of Frederick Graf, a member of the United States army, and noted as an Indian fighter, will be held at 2 o'clock this afternoon in his home, 1741 Eleventh street northwest. The interment will be in Arlington Cemetery, with full military honors, the services being held under the auspices of his comrades of the Schofield Army and Navy Garrison. Mr. Graf was a native of Germany and was fifty-five years old. He came to this country when a young man, and, entering the army, won distinction in numerous Indian campaigns during a service of eighteen years in the West. He was recently honorably discharged and placed upon half pay. Mr. Graf leaves a wife and two children.

BLAMES THE NEGRO TROOPS

Brownsville Citizen Declares He Saw the Soldiers Fire.

Tells Senate Committee How They Lined Up Over Fort Walls—Mexican Identified Troopers.

Testimony tending to show that negro soldiers of the Twenty-fifth United States Infantry were guilty of shooting up Brownsville, Tex., on the night of August 13 last, was presented yesterday to the Senate Military Committee by three residents of that town—Mr. and Mrs. George W. Rendell and Jose Martinez, who lived opposite the Fort Brown Barracks on the night of the outrage.

Mr. Rendell was the first witness produced for the purpose of justifying the President's action in dismissing the two companies of the regiment for participation in the affair. As his position, in the second story of a building fronting the barracks and at the entrance of Fort Brown, where practically the only lights were situated, gave him better opportunity to identify the men than any one else, his testimony was looked upon with considerable interest.

He is seventy-two years of age, is slightly deaf, owns considerable property in Brownsville, and is a civil engineer. While a young man he served in the United States navy, and was on one of Commodore Perry's ships in the expedition to Japan in 1853 that resulted in the opening of Japanese ports for the first time.

Rendell said he was awakened by the shots on the night of August 13, looked out of his window and saw four or five men running from the barracks of Company C inside the fort. As they came under the light from the lamps he recognized them as colored soldiers in uniform; although they were, he acknowledged, from thirty to fifty feet from the lamps.

His testimony in this respect was not shaken on cross-examination, but, provided evidence, based on experiments under approximate conditions, is that neither the uniform nor the color were distinguishable at any such distance.

Mr. Rendell corroborated his husband's testimony except as to his recognition of the men as colored soldiers. Jose Martinez, a fine looking Mexican, thirty years old, who was not on very intimate terms with the English language, testified partly through an interpreter. He was a clerk in a Brownsville drug store, and was in his apartments, opposite the barracks, reading, when the shooting began. He extinguished his light, shut his door, and lay on the floor. He, however, identified some of the men as soldiers, from their light uniforms, and supposed they were colored because their faces appeared darker than their uniforms.

He also heard them shout "Hurry up!" and "Jump!" as they came over the wall, and saw them carried rifles, which they shot from the hip. They went down town by way of the alley, firing as they went. Martinez thought there were some 200 shots fired.

NEGROES TO RAISE FOWLS.

Schools Will Teach Pupils Art of Chicken Breeding.

Chicken raising, to be combined, of course, with strictly legitimate bounds, is to be a part of the curriculum of the colored schools. Commissioner West yesterday gave his official approval to the recommendation of Admiral Baird, Secretary W. H. Connor, and other prominent school officials, that an incubator be installed in one of the colored seats of learning.

The Commissioners and school officials are hopeful of good results, not only in the matter of the production of eggs and chickens, but also in the uniformity of the youthful mind of various precepts which have long been associated with the "raising" and other means of obtaining fowls.

Republican Clubs Meet To-night.

An important meeting of the executive committee of the League of Republican State Clubs of the District of Columbia has been called to take place at the Hotel Dewey this evening. Several matters of special interest to the welfare of the league will be discussed, and especially action in regard to increasing the membership of the league. It has long been the ambition of the league to establish an Interstate Republican club in the District of Columbia, its membership to be composed of the Republicans of the various States in the Union residing in the District. The District of Columbia League consists of fourteen State clubs, having an aggregate membership of 4,000 voters.

North Randle Highlands

When Randle Highlands was put on the market, about eighteen months ago, purchasers camped on the ground all night before the day of sale. Many were offered 100 per cent on their investment before the day was over. Lots which sold for $250 then are now selling for $600.

You can select your lot in advance at North Randle Highlands, before the great sale on the 30th of May, when there will be two bands of music and refreshments on the ground. Come out and spend the day—you can take your lunch under the trees or by the side of the brook and enjoy the bracing air from the Highlands and the grand panoramic view of Washington. Don't lose this opportunity, if you did the last, to secure a lot or a villa site for a home or investment. You can go out and make a personal inspection of the property free of cost, and secure a choice lot before the great opening day, the 30th of May. Lots and villa sites from 3 cents to 16 cents square foot—$25 cash—balance $5 per month.

If you want to get ahead of the great rush of purchasers, cut out the coupon in the corner, and a map, with prices, and an automobile will be sent to you at the time you designate in coupon.
